

Simple steps to swap the car for Public Transport

With public transport patronage at a low, and car use at a high, beat the traffic and swap your car commutes for a public transport commute.

Simple solutions to swap the car for Public Transport can include things such as:

- Research a commuting option that works for you. Trial it out and reassess if it doesn't work.
- Consider travelling outside of peak times/days for a more comfortable and efficient journey.
- Re-purpose your time on public transport and use this downtime to do work tasks, life admin, read a book or listen to a podcast.
- Incorporate physical activity into your commute by walking to/from interchanges or get off a few stops earlier.

Plan ahead and check capacity to find the best way to commute by public transport.

Get prepared and recharge your Opal card or use contactless payments to pay for your journey.

Make your commute convenient and store your laptop, devices and accessories in your backpack.

Your phone and devices will be in high demand in this digital world. Consider a portable or additional charger for your commute to make the most of your down time travelling.
